

Extracts from Speech of The New Political Leader

Below are extracts from the speech made by Hon. R. B. Bennett of Calgary when accepting the leadership of the Conservative party of Canada at the great convention held in Winnipeg on October 12th last:—

"You have set me aside for service to my country through the Conservative party. I have been called upon to say something to this vast audience. I am going to say to you the words of the Man of Galilee, 'And whosoever of you will be chiefest shall be servant of all'. You have made me for the moment chiefest among you, and please God I shall be servant of all.

"I must renounce all those things I have held most dear in the life I have heretofore lived. No longer can the claims of my profession or of my business be upon me. I realize that I must renounce these things, for thus far in my life politics has more or less been an instrument; law and business have been my main avocations. You have determined for me that henceforth, so long as I have health and strength, I must dedicate my talents and my time, such qualities as I may have, and the fortune God has been good enough to give me, to the interests of my country through the great party which I am privileged to belong. Such wealth as I have I consecrate with myself to the service of my country.

If democracy is to be a real thing, if it is to represent the will of the people, as it should, if it is not to be supplanted, then, men and women, each of you must assume leadership in his or her community to see to it that an educated and a qualified democracy determines the destinies of Canada. Without it we must fail, and this convention can only make possible the success of the party, of which for the moment you have honored me with the leadership, if each of you going to your several homes, will carry with you an earnest of the truth, an earnest of the faith we have shown within ourselves, a firm belief in the principals we have adopted in the resolutions we have adopted. Then indeed, this great Liberal-Conservative party will become an instrument for the good of Canada and for the advancement for the welfare of the people who call themselves Canadians.

"Let us dedicate ourselves, young men and women, to the service of Canada that we may make it what we would have it. And, young men and women, this land of opportunity, this land of destiny, this land will, if Conservative policies are given effect to, provide jobs for Canadians and not for workmen in other lands. We demand that young men of promise shall be given something that will make it possible here a home for themselves. We must stop the movement out of this country of its most priceless men and women. We must find work for men and women, which I am sure, is possible with policy you have adopted.

"A party is but an instrument to accomplish a purpose. All of us in this country have one object in view, the health, the happiness the prosperity of the Canadian people, measures of social justice, measures of fiscal reform, measures that will make for the interest and happiness of all the people who call themselves Canadians. All of us have that in view, I believe, as you believe, as we have shown we believe, that in the Liberal-Conservative party we have an instrument better capable of accomplishing these things than any other instrument devised by the will of man in Canada. Then let us see to it that we organize in every hamlet, that we organize in every community, that where we can that we carry the gospel of the faith that is within us, and yield ourselves willing witnesses to that faith to the end that we may bring about the end we have in view. I can ask nothing more, ladies and gentlemen, than that. In that firm faith that you will be loyal to yourselves, and thus be loyal to me, that you will give me that unity of support, that strength of support, that unity of thought and of action, without which no man can succeed. I accept at your hands the great trusts you have placed in me, and I shall endeavor to the best of my ability to discharge them so as to bring no discredit upon you or the great party to which we belong, and whose traditions we so greatly revere.

"One word more I will re-iterate. Promise me here and now as you walk out of yonder door that you will be missionaries of the great cause, missionaries for the great party to which we belong, missionaries for the greatest political convention ever held in the Dominion of Canada, and if you are missionaries your efforts will be crowned with success, and you will have a power in the government at Ottawa reflecting your convictions, your principals, your hopes and aspirations."

USK NOTES

Miss Ivy Alger visited her sister, Mrs. W. Gardiner at Pacific last week.

Milton Allison is making improvements to the pack trail up to his mineral claim on Chindemash creek.

A daughter was born to Mrs. Mike Popovitch on Thursday last.

The new cable for the Usk ferry was stretched across the river and hung to the new towers last week under the supervision of Dan Mason. The old old towers have been removed.

The whist drive under the auspices of the W. A. to the Community Church which was held at the home of Mrs. Whitlow no Saturday evening was a pleasant affair. Approximately $8.50 was cleared on it. The first prizes were won by Miss Mary Lowrie and H. Creelman.

Road work on the new highway from Usk has ended for the season and the boys have all gone home.

SHOT IN THE ARM

Joe Cook suffered a nasty accident last Sunday while duck hunting with a party from town. The party went to Lakelse Lake and there broke up in small parties with Cook, Hignall and Vanderlip remaining in the launch. It was Hignall's gun that accidentally discharged, the shot entering the wrist and hip of Cook. First aid was rendered on the spot and then the patient was brought back to town arriving just as the Sunday freight was to leave for the coast. The injured man was taken to the Rupert General hospital.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Olof Hanson left Prince Rupert for Vancouver where they will meet the King of Sweden who is in Vancouver. Mr. Hanson is Sweden's chief representative in British Columbia.

MIRACLE WHEAT AGAIN

Farmers Advised from Ottawa to be Careful What Seed They Buy

There has appeared recently in a number of agricultural papers an article entitled "King Tut's Wheat Grown in the West." The article refers to certain results obtained by a Soldier Settler living near Edmonton, Alta., and gives the impression that the wheat in question was discovered in 1922 in the tomb of King Tut-an-kh-amen. As a matter of fact the records show that this wheat was known as far back as 1840 when one enterprising gentleman offered heads at $5.00 each.

These above variety belongs to the Poulard subspecies of wheat being somewhat intermediate between the common and durum wheats. It has numerous aliases, the most common of which are Egyptian, Eldorado, Many Headed, Miracle, Mummy, Seven Headed and Alaska. It has always been easy to interest people in this wheat owing to its branched head. If an unbranched head will yield so much surely a branched head will yield much more! While head for head this may be true, yet experiments have shown that it does not hold good acre for acre. This wheat was probably introduced into North America from Europe or Egypt in Colonial days. It was received by the Philadelphia Society for promoting agriculture in 1807, since which time it has appeared periodically under one name or another.

In 1908 the United States Department of Agriculture began an extensive investigation of this wheat, which investigation continued for several years. In the meantime it has been tried by farmers all over the United States but it is not now grown anywhere as a commercial crop. The fact that it has never become established in spite of the remarkable advertising it has received is a good indication of its inferiority. Promoters, however, resurrect it periodically, and owing to its striking and unusual appearance, manage to sell it to the unsuspecting farmer at exorbitant prices.

The essential facts regarding Alaska wheat have been summed up very nicely in a bulletin by the U. S. dept. of Agriculture as follows:—

(1) That it has been used in this country very often as a means of deceiving people, and very seldom as a farm crop.

(2) That it has failed to produce even fair crops when tried in many parts of the country, and has never been known to produce extraordinary yields.

(3) That it is not a good milling wheat.

(4) That the branched head is not a sign of superior yielding power.

On Monday last a deal was completed whereby Mark George takes over the timber limits and camp formerly operated by S. H. Senkpiel. Preparations are now in progress for resuming work in the pole camp. Mr. George will this year have one of the biggest outfits in the district.

Many in this district will regret to learn that Joseph O. Tretheway passed away at his home at Abbotsford on October 20th. Mr. Tretheway was interested in the development of the Sunrise property on Nine Mile mountain and has been in New Hazelton a number of times. He was well known all through the north as well as in the southern part of the province. He, with his brothers have been heavily interested in mining, timber and farming in this province for many years.

W. S. Harris who went to Rupert last week went on south to Vancouver last Saturday.

CANADA'S FUR RESOURCES

Effort Being Made to Increase the Annual Value by Proper Handling

There are thousands of trappers in Canada and all of them are engaged at one time or another during the winter season taking pelts of wild furbearers. There is hardly a farm, village or town in Canada that has not got its trapper or fur trader. Millions of dollars are distributed each year among these persons as a result of the disposal of Canada's annual raw fur catch. Last year it had a value of $15,072,244. A very considerable increase in the yearly value would be made possible were proper methods of pelt handling more widely known.

Too many trappers think that once they have taken a skin that nothing more remains to be done. Amateur and farmer trappers who form more than half the trapping fraternity are the chief losers through this lack of knowledge in the handling of raw pelts as poorly prepared pelts bring much lower prices than those which have been properly prepared. Leading fur authorities have stressed the fact that in many cases up to one half the pelts coming to the raw fur markets fall into the unprofitable class and that every year there are tremendous losses in pelt values that could be prevented. The loss, however, is not confined to the careless trappers, but effects the whole fur industry and lowers the value of both the raw and the finished product.

With a view to improving this condition and making possible a wider knowledge of the essentials necessary to the proper skinning, stretching and drying of raw pelts, a monograph entitled "The Preparation of Pelts for the Market" has been prepared by the Department of the Interior. This monograph will be sent free of charge on request to the Director, Natural Resources Intelligence Service, Dept. of the Interior, Ottawa.

A couple of Chinamen were gathered in by the police on Tuesday afternoon as the result of a raid on their homes the previous evening. One was charged with having unsealed liquor and no permit. He was fined $50. The other was discharged.

BASKET BALL ORGANIZATION

The basket ball organization meeting was held on Friday evening in the G. W. V. A. hall and there was a good turnout of players and fans. A few lively games were enjoyed between the high school team and the town team.

When the young people got down to business the following officers were elected:—

Pres.—Mr. Holmwood
Vice-pres.—Mary Wilson
Secretary—Bessie Moore
Treasurer—Miss Ensthope
Coach—Mr. Holmwood for both the high and public school teams

CASE WAS DISMISSED

The preliminary hearing of Crown vs Dahlquist was heard in Progress Hall on Friday evening before Magistrate Kenney. Dahlquist was charged with assault occasioning actual bodily harm. Sargt. McNeill of the B. C. police force was up from Rupert to prosecute. After some eight or nine witnesses had been examined the magistrate decided that there was insufficient evidence to warrant sending the accused up to a superior court and he thereupon dismissed the case.

Chas. Lundstrom of Remo was here last Saturday.

Terrace Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Edenshaw of Massett are guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. Nash.

In the absence of Rev. Mr. Robinson last Sunday H. H. Halliwell took the service in the Anglican church on Sunday morning and Capt. Colthurst in the evening. N. Sherwood assisted at both services. There were good congregations present.

Mrs. Noonan arrived from Telkwa on Monday and is visiting with Mrs. F. W. Bohler.

Mrs. R. L. McIntosh left Tuesday for Prince Rupert after spending the summer at "The Crossroads". Mr. McIntosh will remain for a few weeks.

The many friends of Dr. Bleecker will regret to learn that he is again confined to the hospital at Prince Rupert. In another week or ten days he and Mrs. Bleecker will leave for Trenton, Ont., the Doctor's old home. He hopes to get relief from his trouble in the east. Mrs. Bleecker will accompany him home.

A Thirteen members from St. Temial No. 40, Rebecka Lodge, Prince Rupert, paid a visit last Wednesday evening to the Terrace lodge (Mountain View, No. 47) to celebrate the anniversary. The visitors put on some degree work after which there was whist and dancing. An orchestra composed of McLaren, Hall, Kirkaldy and deKergemneaux provided the music until 11.30 when the gathering adjourned to Progress hall where a banquet was served. After a number of toasts the gathering returned to the lodge room where dancing was continued for some time.

"Grandma" Little celebrated the 10 anniversary of her arrival in Terrace on Thursday last by a dinner party despite the fact that she in her 92nd year. She has been confined to bed for over two years since her accident, but she enjoys good health.

Born, in Prince Rupert hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. E. Hunter, a son, on October 13th.

Mrs. Ardagh was a bridge hostess at the home of her parents on Thursday evening. Mrs. Geo. Dover won the first prize and Mrs. Geo. Little captured the consolation.

Howard Warne is spending a few days in Prince Rupert before going to Edmonton.

Rev. A. W. Robinson took the services in St. Peters church, Hazelton, last Sunday and will also be in Hazelton the coming Sunday.

Mrs. W. Cassel and daughters, Mrs. Hill and Miss Opal, were visitors to Prince Rupert last week end.

Fred Nash returned the end of the week from Stewart where he has been surveying for the last two months.

W. Lassin of the Black Wolf Mining Co. left Sunday for Seattle.

R. Bramley of Nanaimo was in Terrace on business over Sunday.

The farmers of the district are completing the storing of the season's crop and find it is very much better than expected during the dry summer. The last two months have been good for the vegetables.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dover entertained two tables at bridge on Saturday evening.

* AN AGGREGATE VALUE OF $988,108,470

The substantial progress of the mining industry in this province is strikingly illustrated in the following figures, which show the value of production for successive 5-year periods:

For all years to 1895, inclusive	$ 94,547,241
For five years, 1896-1900	57,607,967
For five years, 1901-1905	96,507,968

For five years 1921 to 1925	214,726,656
For 1926	67,188,842

PRODUCTION DURING LAST TEN YEARS, $429,547,755

Lode mining has only been in progress about 25 years, and only about one-half of the Province has been prospected; 200,000 square miles of unexplored mineral bearing lands are open for prospecting.

The mining laws of this Province are more liberal and the fees lower than any other Province in the Dominion or any Colony in the British Empire.

Mineral locations are granted to discoverers for nominal fees. Absolute titles are obtained by developing such properties, security of which is guaranteed by Crown grants.

Practically all British Columbia mineral properties on which development work has been done are described in one of the Annual Reports of the Minister of Mines. Those considering mining investments should refer to such reports.

They are available without charge on application to the Department of Mines, Victoria, B.C. Reports covering each of the six Mineral Survey Districts are published separately, and are available on application. Reports of the Geological Survey of Canada, which Building, Vancouver, B.C., are recommended as valuable sources of information.

Although no one would suspect it by press reports coming out of that city, but Prince Rupert has been enjoying a good measure of prosperity and it begins to look as if the city was getting away to a good start. The worst days are over. The interior has a great interest in Prince Rupert. That city is and must always be the chief market for interior products. Every increase in Rupert's wealth; every increase in her industry, means just so much more produce from the interior will be needed. It is probably true that most of the farm produce consumed in Rupert comes from the south, but it is not so bad today as it was a couple of years ago. Both the coast city and the interior deserve credit for this improved condition. They are getting better acquainted with produce and requirements. Another year or two and the south should be shut out of the northern market.

The northern market is growing too. Probably the growth is greater than the increase in production. The city is looking forward to a bigger year than any in its history, from a commercial point of view. The grain elevator will by no means be responsible for all the increase, although it is believed that more than double the quantity of grain will be handled this year. Saw mills in the city and district and mining in the north and in the interior will be responsible for a lot of trade in the northern city. The interior will do well to cater more and more to the business of Prince Rupert.

One of the most laughable of the many laughable stunts the Prince Rupert News pulls was the editorial in a recent issue patting Mayor Newton on the back for his progressiveness and pointing out that the Mayor should most certainly be endorsed by the Conservative party as candidate in Prince Rupert. The News knows that S. M. Newton is not and has not been for a long time a member of the Conservative party. Leading members of the party say that he is not being and will not be asked to join the party. But the object the News has is to keep S. M. Newton in the field and make another three-cornered fight in that riding. The Conservative party will deal with the matter of a candidate in due course and it is safe to say that the News will not be invited to participate in making that decision.

As a result of the victory at Nelson a week ago the Provincial government will carry on for at least another year before making a general appeal to the public. While the majority given Mr. McDonald was not as large as might have been expected it was a win for the government and Premier McLean is in at least as strong a position as he was during the last session of the Legislature. The government will take another year to complete the working out of the old program and to get the new program well under way.

General Sutton, late of China, is doing a great deal of talking about the millions of this and that and how he is going to spend them. He also makes it quite plain that he wants millions of the people's money and of the public acres. Too much talk does not add much confidence in the talker's ability to carry through his schemes.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Olof Hanson left Prince Rupert for Vancouver where they will meet the King of Sweden who is in Vancouver. Mr. Hanson is Sweden's chief representative in British Columbia.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to the value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin, How to Pre-empt Land.

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and the land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purpose areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by any one person or company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts, and the range administered under the Grazing Commission. Annual grazing permits are issued, based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and

Telling the World of Canada's Wonders

Morley Roberts and John Murray Gibbon, two well-known authors, whose books have gone far to awaken world-wide interest in the Rocky Mountains of Canada. This photo was made this year at the Trail Riders' Pow-wow, near Lake Louise.

Of the countless thousands of those who have lifted up their eyes unto the hills that are in British Columbia and Alberta, and have seen something of the majesty and the glory that is theirs, many have gone back to set down in books what they could of their impressions and as far as their words could to conjure up visions of Canada's Rockies before the eyes of their readers. Thus there exists a literature of the Canadian Rockies. It grew slowly and has only of very recent years begun to assume any world-wide importance, but as there has spread a more general recognition of their place among the world's scenic wonders the numbers of writers who have made pilgrimages to their countless vast shrines has steadily increased.

If we exclude tales of pioneers and explorers who were the first to wend their ways through the valleys and passes that led to the Pacific Coast, we shall find that one of the earliest of the world's recognized writers to fall under their spell was Morley Roberts, who in 1884 or 1885 drifted that way in the course of an almost tramp-like journey across Western America. Since then the world has recognized Morley Roberts as one of its finer craftsmen. At that time he worked with axe and shovel on the titanic task of pushing the steel of the C.P.R. through the mountains on its way to the Pacific.

"The Western Avernus" is a book in which he told the story of his wanderings and something of life in C.P.R. construction camps. Through his eyes we can see the Rockies as he saw them when they were new to Europeans. "Here is a vast gorge," he says, "now broad with sloping bastions of opposing fortresses, on either hand, now narrow with steepest walls and impending rocks threatening the calm lakes that catch their shadows and receive their reflections. Even as you look do they not nod with possible thunderous avalanche, or is it the play only of shadow from opposite peak and pinnacle? How these are cut and scarped to all conceivable fantasy of art and inconceivable majesty of nature, how they are castled and upheld with arch and bridge, and flying buttress! This is the aisle of the Great Cathedral of the Gods; this is the cave of Aeolus, the home of the hurricane; this is the lofty spot most beloved by the sunlight, for here come the first of the day beams and here they linger last on rosy snow covering the rock whose mossy base lies in the under shadow."

It would require much space to enumerate even the more outstanding books that have the Rocky Mountains as a background, but among them the books of Ralph Connor are notable, particularly "The Patrol of the Sundance Trail" which is a story set in the vicinity of Banff.

The latest addition to Rocky Mountain literature is a new novel from the pen of John Murray Gibbon and no one better knows the Canadian Rockies—and loves them more wholeheartedly. "Eyes of a Gypsy" is its title, and its best scenes are laid in the clouds where everlasting glaciers give place on the rocky slopes to straggling forests. It is a tale of human emotions and although part of its action takes place in New York, it is Canadian in spirit and its people are mostly the sort of people whom Canadians will recognize as to be met with in any part of this country. Reviewers say it is the best book Mr. Gibbon has yet produced; it certainly holds the attention from first to last, and if one or two of its characters are amazingly unlike the ordinary run of people, that makes the book all the more thrilling. In any case it is doing important work in helping make Canada's scenic glories known to the world.

Morley Roberts and J. Murray Gibbon are friends to each other as well as of the Rockies. They spent some weeks together in the mountains this year during the annual meeting of the Trail Riders. Roberts was renewing old acquaintances and re-visiting scenes he had not seen for forty years. New books will no doubt later come from each and it is to be expected that in the case of neither has a last word been spoken on the Rocky Mountains.

Mail Order Prescriptions!

From all over B. C. they come—from far northern posts where the trapper keeps lonely vigil—from mining outposts—from distant canneries—come prescriptions to be filled by our three Graduate Pharmacists. Twenty years ago a mail order prescription was an event with us. Now a special department is devoted to filling mail order prescriptions with the same care and fidelity, the same rigid adherence to the standards of exactness that first built our reputation.

American Legion Honors Captain

Upper—U. S. S. "Montroyal" which carried the Legionnaires in war and peace. Lower—Section of Legionnaires photographed at Quebec before sailing for Paris recently. Inset—Captain H. Sibbons, R.N.R.

A signal honor has been conferred on Captain H. Sibbons, R.N.R., commander of the Canadian Pacific Montroyal, by the members of the American Legion who sailed 800 strong on his ship from England recently after the gathering of the Legionnaires in Paris in September. On their voyage across the Atlantic to Quebec, R. J. Byers, adjutant of the American Legion, department of Michigan, decorated Captain Sibbons with the American Legion official medal of the Second A.E.F.

Many of the Legionnaires who journeyed both ways on the "Montroyal" to attend the convention, were carried by this ship to France during the Great War and renewed their friendship with the popular commander. The majority of the Legionnaires on the peacetime journey to France were from the middle west and west of the United States.

In honoring Captain Sibbons with the official medal, Adjutant Byers said:

"Captain Sibbons, an historic pilgrim, has been successfully led, and thousands of the best citizens of America, proven to be such in action, and proven again in their sincere desire to continue that good citizenship by promoting world peace through this pilgrimage, now have their faces turned homewards. They are conquerors—conquerors of friendship. You, sir, helped guide the first A.E.F. through danger-infested seas. You, sir, have again helped guide safely the second A.E.F. to a joyous conclusion. It was the comparatively few men of your calibre, men who have spent a lifetime on the great Atlantic, who made possible that first glorious victory of our Allied countries. You, sir, are carrying on in peacetime, just as we are carrying on—the soldiers, sailors and marines—whom you have so safely carried across and back—first to war and then to peace. You are one of us; one of our trusted leaders; one on whom we depended, and who took care of us. Sir, I pin the American Legion Official Medal of the Second American Expeditionary Force on your breast. Only men of proven worth are permitted to have it. In due time, when we shall have completed our journey, a suitable accompanying citation will be forwarded to you. This is the service medal to be worn with your uniform on proper occasions."
